

ARTURO PENA BACKSTORY

Arturo is a model employee, friend and scientist. He keeps his powers quiet and doesn't show off. He has the know how and credentials to work anywhere he wants, but chooses to live in the small town of Tulum and make a living as a tour guide to the near by Mayan Ruins. He is happiest engaging his costumers and hearing their speculations regarding Mayan culture. Occasionally, a costumer stumbles into a novel thought that Arturo hasn't thought before. He, of course, gives credit where credit is due, but the catalyzing thought is meaningless without Arturo's vast experience and near perfect memory.

Physically, Arturo is small, 1.52 m, but he has lightning reflexes. This is due to both super-human agility and perception. He is neat in his presentation, but sci-stylish.

Mentally, he is incredibly gifted and has applied his gifts. He is super-humanly intelligent with an estimated IQ over 250. He speaks a dozen or languages and is well versed in several scientific disciplines.

Emotionally, he is open and agreeable. He is stable and warm-hearted.

His super-super power is the ability to shrink. He does this well and during slow times, he's able to explore parts of the ruins not accessible by other scientists.
